HEART ATTACK CITY. . .

. . .Is open about 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday at 806 E. Seventh St., Cameron. Chief ghoul is Martin W. L. and a half dozen noxious cohorts whose sole Halloween interest is in scaring the willy-nilly out of the trick 'n treat crowd. They're not just good, they're awful.

The act has been in rehearsal since late August.

GRAVEYARD TYPEWRITER. . .

A lot of people work what is called the "graveyard shift" in industry, that time between normal bedtime and sunup.

I write there, somewhere in early morning when the phone is not likely to ring, when even the sports desk is closed, when the only sound on television is the National Anthem or simply nothing.

This typewriter works better unobserved, even if at best this touch leaves it lightly attended.

An occasional cricket in season has tried its influence at the keys, pouncing on the letters which tap the copypaper, losing a brittle leg on the downstroke. This apparent brutality is only part of the survival of the fittest.

Operating at that hour, a typewriter has little choice but to play out its epitaph to a fallen word and a misspent insect.

Dust is an intruder into the wiry guts of the machine, accruing from the air and an eraser, a sort of dry gop that smears when the ribbon is changed.

Fingerprints are frequent misprints on the casing and copypaper when the ribbon sticks at the end of its length. A cricket leaves a trail by accident. His nitbrain could follow my prints back to my fingers if I hid them in my pockets.

I have learned that fingers hardly ever tire. It is the mind that gets silly after a few of these hours. But it seems like a good idea, and kind of romantic, esoteric and finally, lonely.

Not melonacholy lonely. It is more dark, quiet lonely. If the head works late at all, it has few distractions. A florescent light hums. I hear myself exhale, sending the spent air, drawing lightly its invisible replacement.

A slight sound amplifies for lack of containment. Paper rustles beyond its pliant context.

A sleepy world is quite alive. Sleepy senses seem to hear better, concentrate on detail, if not to exaggerate.

I like it. I sleep well after wandering through this benign, battleground. This typewriter rests its keys. The florescent dims its fingers.

Centex Scouts To Be Calling For Good Turn

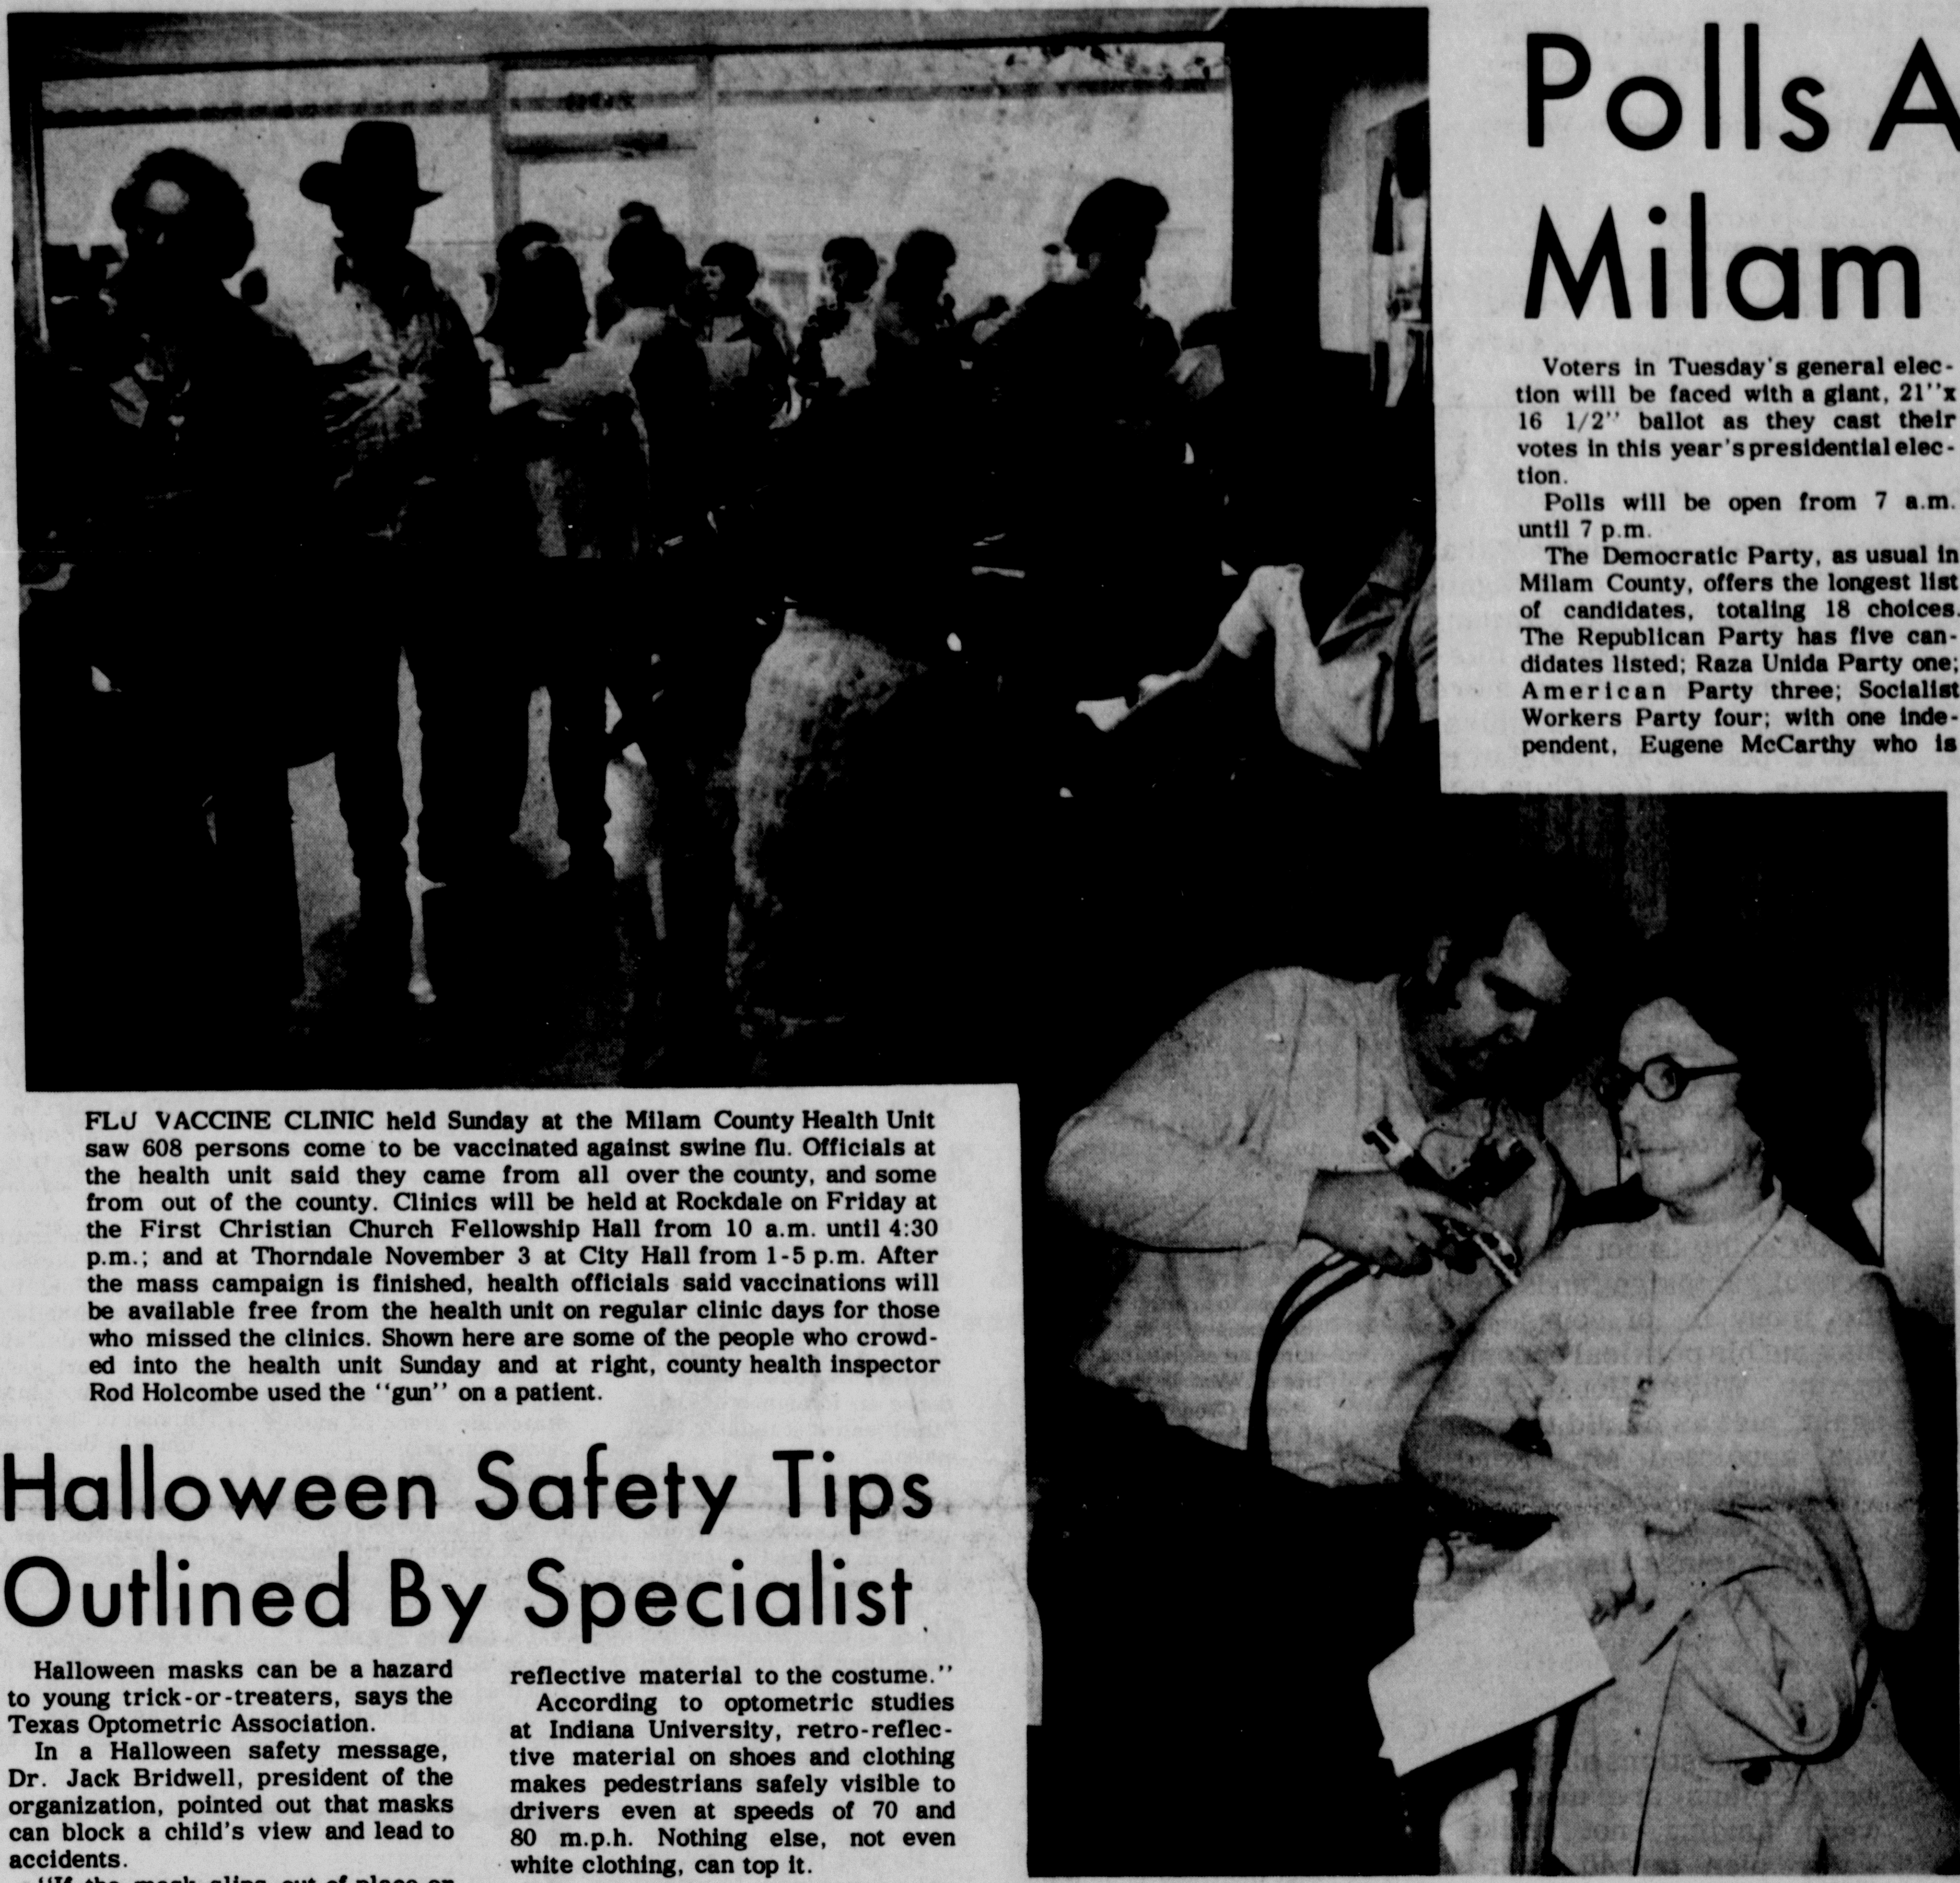
More than 7,000 Central Texas Scouts will distribute doorknockers October 30 for this year's Good Turn Day Drive. The doorknockers will replace the bags which have been handed out in past years.

The Scouts are asking residents to use their own containers to fill with repairable clothing and household items.

This is a good chance to go through your closets and drawers and dispose of any unused and unwanted items. Your discards will provide a job for over 200 handicapped persons being trained and employed at the Heart O' Texas Goodwill Industries facilities.

The donated items are repaired and processed and sold in the ten Goodwill retail stores in Waco, Temple, Harker Heights, Mexia, Copperas Cove, Killeen and Lampasas.

So, please fill a bag for Goodwill and place it outside your front door by 1 p.m. on Sunday, November 7, 1976. A Scout will come by and pick it up.



FLU VACCINE CLINIC held Sunday at the Milam County Health Unit saw 608 persons come to be vaccinated against swine flu. Officials at the health unit said they came from all over the county, and some from out of the county. Clinics will be held at Rockdale on Friday at the First Christian Church Fellowship Hall from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.; and at Thorndale November 3 at City Hall from 1-5 p.m. After the mass campaign is finished, health officials said vaccinations will be available free from the health unit on regular clinic days for those who missed the clinics. Shown here are some of the people who crowded into the health unit Sunday and at right, county health inspector Rod Holcombe used the "gun" on a patient.

Polls Await Milam Voters

Voters in Tuesday's general election will be faced with a giant, 21''x 16 1/2'' ballot as they cast their votes in this year's presidential election.

Peter Camejo and Willie Mae Reid are candidates for president vice president on the Socialist Workers Party list with Pedro Vasquez as candidate for United States senator and Pat O'Reilly for railroad commissioner.

There is space on the ballot for write-in votes.

Halloween Safety Tips Outlined By Specialist

Halloween masks can be a hazard to young trick-or-treaters, says the Texas Optometric Association.

In a Halloween safety message, Dr. Jack Bridwell, president of the organization, pointed out that masks can block a child's view and lead to accidents.

"If the mask slips out of place or if the eye holes are too small, a youngster may not be able to see approaching cars, objects on the ground, a hole, a step or the curb, he said.

According to our Cameron optometrist, a safer alternative is to use makeup instead of masks for Halloween disguises.

"However, be sure the makeup is of the non-allergic variety, and be sure it is applied with care by adults. It is important to keep makeup particles and applicators out of a child's eyes," he cautioned.

Helping trick - or - treaters to see is only half of Halloween safety. The other half is to be certain the youngsters can be seen by passing motorists.

"The greatest potential Halloween danger is the pedestrian/automobile accident," Dr. Sharp said. "Even the most careful driver may not see an excited child dart into his path in time to stop. There is a way, however, that parents can make their child highly visible to drivers at great distances without interfering with costume design. Simply add retro-reflective material to the costume."

According to optometric studies at Indiana University, retro-reflective material on shoes and clothing makes pedestrians safely visible to drivers even at speeds of 70 and 80 m.p.h. Nothing else, not even white clothing, can top it.

Turn Clock Back, Sleep Extra Hour

Sunday will be the day to get back that hour's sleep you lost earlier this year as Daylight Savings Time comes to an end for another year -- not to return until next spring.

In order to lay claim to your hour, set your clock back one hour Saturday night before going to bed, or to be completely official about it, set the alarm for 2 a.m. and get up then and turn the clock back.

Regardless of the method used, set the clock back an hour some time this coming weekend to keep in step with your neighbors -- and get back those 60 minutes that mysteriously disappeared last spring.

School Holiday Monday

Monday will be a school holiday as teachers will be attending the TSTA regional meeting in Bryan, according to School Supt. Buddy Dulin.

Two Water Bond Amendments Draw Wide Comment In State

Texans will decide Nov. 2 whether they want to issue up to $500 million in bonds for new reservoirs and sewage improvement projects.

And part of the two-proposition package has become one of the most controversial issues in the otherwise quiet general election campaign as far as statewide issues are concerned.

On the ballot, the two proposed changes in the state constitution look something like this:

--Amendment No. 1, authorizing the issuance of an additional $400 million in Texas Water Development Bonds; requiring legislative approval of certain projects; prohibiting the use of certain state funds for development of water resources from the Mississippi River.

--Amendment No. 2, authorizing the issuance of an additional $100 million in Texas Water Development Bonds for water quality enhancement purposes.

The first proposition, which has raised the most controversy, would increase by $400 million the amount of bonds that could be issued to finance such projects as reservoirs, wells, pipelines and purification facilities needed by Texas cities and towns.

Both propositions have been endorsed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, and House Speaker Bill Clayton, along with a number of big name water association officials.

But it has aroused considerable opposition from the League of Women Voters, Citizens Against Water Taxes and several environmental groups.

"This is a $400 million blank check for six people appointed by the governor to spend," said Richard Shannon, a spokesman for Environmental Action for Texas.

"The Water Development Board should present a plan for future water development before asking voters to approve additional bonds," said Linda Landendorff, president of the League of Women Voters.

"It's corporate socialism, soaking the public for a few special interests," said John Faulk, speaking for Citizens Against Water Taxes.

"The people of Texas, whether they live in a rural or an urban environment, must have adequate water of good quality for their needs," said Briscoe.

"We, as responsible citizens, must look to the needs of the future, not merely enjoy the benefits someone else's foresight years ago has provided for us," said Rep. Tom Massey, San Angelo.

There has been no organized opposition to proposition No. 2 which authorizes an increase from $100 million to $200 million in the amount of bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement. These "clean water" bonds would be used by cities and towns to improve sewage treatment facilities.

Josiah Wheat, chairman of Texans for Clean Water, said that a lot of sewage plants were built many years ago and need to be replaced or upgraded.

"Construction is so costly that many smaller towns simply cannot raise money locally to finance construction. On the other hand, federal grant money is not available to many of them within a practical time frame, so their only recourse is a loan from the state," he said.

Wheat said the bonds would be self-liquidating as cities and towns paid off the loans, but the fund would not be revolving.

Ground Breaking Due For Expo Building

Bids for the foundation of the youth exposition building were opened Friday afternoon and Monroe Baker of Cameron was awarded the contract, according to building officials.

The surveyors have staked the building site and established elevations and ground breaking for the building will be announced next week.

The board of directors of the youth exposition association met Monday night and appointed committees to work on various phases of the building completion and set up guidelines for the operation of the building.

To date the fund drive has raised $62,750 in cash and pledges. This includes amounts pledged, cash donations, fund raising activities, and the livestock auctions. The goal of $65,000 is definitely in sight.

All areas of the county have participated in the drive and many have indicated they have other donations to turn in.

The 5 Percenter...

The McCarthy 5 per cent may well determine who goes into the White House in January.

The percentage identified early this year in Harris and other polls is holding. It reads from 5 to 7 per cent.

Pollsters say this percentage could drain liberal idealogues off the left flank of Jimmy Carter's plurality and put Gerald Ford into the White House until 1980.

McCarthy has no funds to go beyond the 30 state ballots he has attained, including Texas.

Eugene McCarthy is the man who in a New Hampshire primary compelled Lyndon Johnson to look at the realities of running for re-election 1968. Mr. Johnson unexpectedly cleared the field for a new candidate, who proved to be another Minnesotan, Hubert Humphrey. Humphrey lost, as the record shows.

Liberals are adamant that McCarthy may once again be a spoiler for his own party. But they probably misread the man. He is more idealogue than politician, more poet than legislator.

This is not Red China nor the United States of 1770s. A poet hasn't much chance in a totally pragmatic world, except to say who won't be elected.

The college professor - poet - former senator may well keep the consummate politician from Georgia out of the White House by staying in this election, practically fundless.

McCarthy is not receiving federal campaign funds. And the irony is, of course, he may put his political opposite in the White House once again, just as he did the man who appointed Mr. Ford.

Is McCarthy's 5 percent proof once again that "it's the little things that count?"

Your Herald is running a sample ballot in this edition.

It is just about the size of a newspaper page. It is self-explanatory, if not bigger than it needs to be.

So much is being made of the debates, becoming a part of the political process, a plus among so many campaign co-equals, we would normally think a big vote was predictable.

A big vote is less than likely, except in areas outside the metro communities of this country. A is for apathy this November.

Some serious contests have developed in the Texas Senatorial race, which the incumbent will win partly because the challenger has run into serious money problems late in his campaign.

Some questions about state water plans are asked toward funding, not unlike a water plan turned down in the late 1960s.

But it is all there, a complete, life-size sample ballot for the voter to prime himself on if he chooses to go further than this newspaper.

The May Democratic primary drew more than 6,000 votes, a modern record turnout because of county contests. We are not so sure that many will vote in this general election, but apathy aside and non-metro areas' being more individually oriented, people should turnout.

"Low Down"
FROM THE
Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

UNION SOLDIERS?

Rep. Bob Wilson (Calif.) ". . .Under leave to extend my remarks I include the following." (The condensed article follows):

Union Soliders
(By Howard Fleiger)

To most people, the idea that those in military uniform should join a union to negotiate the terms of their employment is so far out it is silly--but Congress is taking it seriously.

The American Federation of Government Employees--an affiliate of the AFL-CIO--put on its agenda a proposal to unionize soldiers, sailors, marines, and airmen: our combined first line of military defense.

The union motivation is obvious. If its leaders could add to their quiver the right to represent those in uniform, their power in dealing with the Federal Government would make them one of the most awesome instruments of bargaining in the history of organized labor.

That is why 25 of the 100 United State Senators are co-sponsoring a bill to ban union activitiy within the armed forces.

Those now in uniform, the argument goes, are not there because of patriotism but because they want a good job. In that circumstance, they should be allowed to organize, safeguarded by labor's traditional and court-protected right to strike.

It may sound reasonable in peacetime. But what about war? Is a union shop steward going to decide whether America's armed forces will fight in the future?

As recently as March of this year, the Supreme Court held: "A military organization is not constructed along democratic lines and military activities cannot be governed by democratic porcedures. Military institutions are necessarily far more authoritarian; military decisions cannot be made by vote of the interested participants."

We have no draft. No one has to served in the armed forces against his will. Those who volunteer to do so must accept as a condition of employment the fact that they are under the discipline of a single command. If they don't accept that, the armed forces of the United States will be nothing.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

If the Armed Forces are unionized would President George Meany of the AFL-CIO become "General" Meany, or possibly "Admiral" Meany?

Golden Eagle Hunting Forbidden In State

Texas goat and sheep raisers cannot hunt golden eagles in Texas, the U.S. Interior Department has ruled.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe's request was rejected last week.

Briscoe stirred up something of a storm last month when he asked Interior Secretary Thomas E. Kleppe to grant blanket authorization for stockmen to hunt the eagles in 31 counties of West Texas.

Lynn Greenwalt, director of the Interior Fish and Wildlife Service replied to Briscoe. He said the request was turned down under a policy of former Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel which concluded in 1970 against blanket authorizations.

The Interior policy referred to by Greenwalt permits consideration of requests from individual ranchers who can demonstrate that they need to hunt the protected birds.

Briscoe requested authority to shoot the eagles after ranchers complained about increasing numbers of the birds near the October 1 beginning of the lambing season.

Ranchers claimed the migratory birds would cause heavy losses in newborn lambs and kid goats.

An outcry was raised subsequently from groups seeking to protect the golden eagles from wholesale attack by outraged ranchers.

"Scandal" Charged

Wallace charged the U.S. is spending $70,000 a minute importing oil from foreign producing countries.

Major buyers of Texas crude entered requests for more than 3.9 million barrels of oil a day in November.

Employees Fired

House Speaker Bill Clayton fired four veteran House employees last week.

He said they did not fit into his plans to computerize the system of handling legislation.

Discharged were House Chief Clerk Dorothy Hallman, a House employee for 41 years and chief clerk for 20 years; Adele Jacobs, who has been calendar clerk since 1947 and has worked for the legislature since 1931; Assistant Chief Clerk Ruth Rainey, a 10 year veteran; and Assistant Calendar Clerk Cynthia Lewis.

Clayton claimed House members and lobbyists had told him they had been contacted by some of the employees and warned that bills may be lost under the new system or that copies of legislation would not be available. The speaker also said there were just too many employees in the clerk's office.

Mobile Home Probe Set

The Department of Public Safety has launched a statewide probe of mobile home scandals.

DPS spokesmen said owners of the homes are being offered phony contracts under which buyers claim they will agree to pay off the balance owed them.

Courts Speak

The State Bar of Texas has filed a complaint in district court at Houston seeking to disbar, suspend or reprimand Donald B. Yarbrough, Democratic nominee for the State Supreme Court.

The Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed the death penalty for two men who killed an off-duty patrolman.

The same court upheld a trial court decision denying bail for Fort Worth millionaire Cullen Davis in the slaying of his stepdaughter.

The court also reversed the 14 years sentence given a man in the rape of a deaf mute in Bell County.

Hearing Slated

Texas Public Utilities Commission set December 1 as a tentative date for review of the rural rate structure of Central Power and Light Company.

The commission turned down a motion from intervening cities to delay the consolidated hearing until late December after all cities have individually considered rate requests presented to them by CP&L.

Two intervening groups were named by the commission. One consists of 41 South Texas cities. The second combines interested ratepayers in Aransas and Nueces counties, South Padre Island and the Key Alegro Canal Owners Association.

Meanwhile, the commission granted Atty. Gen. John Hill and Texas Municipal League a three-day time extension to intervene in the Southwestern Bell Telephone rate case. The company is seeking a $272 million annual hike.

Short Snorts

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

Something is happening in ths country that may drive the politicians up the wall.

For a long while now, say from the time of Julius Caesar, politicians have been accused of dodging issues, of double talk, of taking one stand today and changing it tomorrow. It's not unheard of., although he'd like for it to be that way, for a politician to say one thing in Texas and just the opposite in Louisiana, especially if no network cameras are around. And it seems to work. That is, when both candidates for the same office do it, one or the other always gets elected.

Up to now, the people have always just shrugged, but the public opinion pollsters are finding a strange new outcropping among the voters.

As you know, the polls in the Presidential election are fluctuating wildly. One week Carter will be far ahead, the next week Ford is closing in, the next week he's even, the next week Carter is ahead again, the next week it's too close to call.

Trying to explain this, a leading pollsters, one who's been right in previous elections, said "Something is happening among the voters. They tell you one thing today and something else tomorrow."

That's it! The people have turned the tables on the politicians and for a change are not telling them the truth. It may have taken them over 200 years to catch on, but it was bound to happen sooner or later.

You can see what this is going to do to the candidates. Say the polls, with the pollees answering tongue-in-cheek, show Carter is leading in Omaha and trailing in Little Rock. Immediately he rushes to Little Rock while Ford rushes to Omaha, whereas actually just the opposite is true. Multiply this by areas all over the country and you can see what a hilarious mess is going to result.

Sounds like more fun than a barrel of monkeys, although there's really no need to be bringing Congress into this.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SAVING TIPS
on electric ranges

1. When using top-of-range utensils, cover tightly and cook with minimum of water. Cooking's faster; less energy's used. Food looks and tastes better, too.
2. Use flat-bottomed utensils for best contact with heating surface. Use proper size utensils. A 6" pan on an 8" heating surface wastes energy.
3. Preheat oven only when needed and only to temperature stated. Normal preheat is 10 minutes; any longer wastes energy.
4. When broiling, do not preheat. Leave door ajar... air circulation insures proper broiling.
5. Use oven fully. Fill it with foods that cook at same temperature. Freeze extras for later use.
6. Center pans in from oven sides, staggered above each other (no overlap) for best heat distribution.
7. Keep oven shut. Opening door drops temperature 25° or more; wastes energy.
8. Thaw frozen meats before cooking.
9. Do not use oven or surface heating elements for home heating.
10. Turn range off immediately when finished.

Conserve electricity and you help conserve one or more of the fuels needed to produce it. Conserve fuels and you help assure that there will be enough to meet essential needs for electricity in the future.

When you pass a TP&L office, warehouse, generating plant or other facility, you'll see that we've turned off all non-essential lighting. And, in as many other ways as possible, TP&L is reducing its own uses of electricity.

County Agent's Notes

Seed Planting Rates Vital To Grain Crops

By Bill McCutchen

It's still a long time until planting time again, but now is the time to start thinking about ways to increase yields and profits in 1977.

One thing I see year after year is problems in getting a desired stand of grain sorghum. Poor stands are usually replanted, causing delay and loss of yield and profits. Thick stands are usually left and usually have the same effects.

Stand problems sometimes are the result of soil insects, adverse weather, or other factors but many times they are the cause of incorrect seeding rates.

Farmers, county agents, and other agribusiness industries have become accustomed to talking about pounds of seed to plant per acre. At one time this was acceptable because there were relatively few hybrids and the seed size was roughly uniform.

Hybrid sorghum seeds may vary greatly in size from hybrid to hybrid and even year to year; therefore, careful attention should be given to planting the optimum number of seeds per acre and not to pounds per acre.

To emphasize the importance of this, a random sample of 32 different hybrids were checked for seed size in 1976. The largest seeded varieties had about 11,500 seeds per pound while the smallest contained approximately 19,000 seed per pound. If you simply use the same plates you did last year and planted both extremes in this example you could easily get a poor stand on one and a thick stand on the other at no fault at all of the seed or other conditions.

Count seed, not pounds! Looking at it another way, six pounds of the largest seed would contain 69,000 seeds while the same weight of the smallest would be 114,000 seeds. That's quite a difference in plant populations and it could amount to a very costly planting error.

Check your planting equipment and calibrate it before planting time to assure the proper seeding rate. For this area a final plant population of 40,000 to 60,000 plants per acre is desired regardless of row spacing.

Two hundred and sixteen plants per 100' of row on 38'' centers would be 29,700 plants per acre. This population would mean a plant every 5.5 inches.

On the upper range 434 plants per 100' of row on 38'' centers would be 60,000 plants per acre. This plant population would mean a plant ever 2.8 inches.

A little interpolation is required based on soil temperature, percent live seed, and a few other factors but it will pay you to get down and county seed per 100' of row next year before you start planting and re-check if you change to another variety. Paying attention to the little things can make a big difference.

Can we afford four more years without effective leadership?

There is a critical decision to be made on November 2nd. It goes far beyond the question of which Presidential candidate can govern with integrity and honesty. We must determine which candidate has the ability and strength to lead our country out of economic chaos, and the vision to see that all Americans—not just the powerful and influential—have a better future.

During the past two years, the middle class has paid far too dear a price for a President lacking that ability.

Since Gerald Ford took office, the unemployment rate has risen 50%, from 5.5% or 5 million people, to 7.9% or 7-1/2 million jobless Americans.

Today's inflation rate of 6% is higher than it was at any time between the Korean War and the inauguration of Richard Nixon.

The 1968 food dollar is now worth 57¢.

Mr. Ford's budget will account for the largest single deficit and more than 1/3 of the public debt incurred during our entire 200-year history.

Real GNP has actually declined during each of Gerald Ford's two years in office.

And who is most affected by these distressing statistics? Not the Washington establishment, or the economic elite courted by the Republicans. The burden falls on the person who can least afford it: the average American.

Jimmy Carter means to change all that. As President, he will make government responsive to your needs.

Tax Reform: "The average family in this country actually pays a higher proportion of their income in taxes than the average family that makes more than a million dollars a year. That's disgraceful. We need to move toward a truly progressive and simplified tax system, with reduced tax rates for the average American."

Economy: "We'll never have a balanced budget nor an end to the inflationary problems as long as we have 7-1/2 million people out of work. Employment needs to be the major thrust of the whole domestic policy of our government."

Efficiency in Government: "We now have in the federal government the most bloated, confused, wasteful bureaucracy ever created. There's no way to get an answer out of Washington and no way to understand what's going on there. We need to reorganize completely the executive branch of government, making it fair, efficient, effective, and responsive to our people's needs."

Housing: "No government that cared about our neighborhoods would stack the tax deck against them. A landlord can let a building run down and make a good living on tax breaks. But when a home owner spends a little hard-earned money fixing up his home, the assessor raises his taxes. And the FHA no longer cares about families getting started in their own homes. I intend to restore the FHA to the time when, for a down payment, a family could get a mortgage which the government would insure."

Health Care: "We need a nationwide health care delivery system which will make adequate health care a right for all people."

Jimmy Carter has the strength to take charge of our government. If you are tired of paying the high price of Republican ineffectiveness, you have only one choice on November 2nd, and that choice is for change.

Diseases Hitting Shade Trees

Two Texas shade trees, the mimosa and the mulberry, are suffering from fungus diseases.

Dr. Wendell Horne, a plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the mimosa tree is being removed from the Texas landscape by Fusarium wilt. The fungal organism that causes the disease had its origin on the eastern seaboard and has spread westward in recent years.

The wilt, which also occurs in cotton, peas, and watermelons, results from spores that become airborne after laying dormant in the soil. It affects plant vitality and the leaves. The tree later shows signs of color loss and droopiness and cracks along the bark soon appear, emitting a foul smelling sap.

Two resistant varieties of mimosa trees, Charlotte and Tyrone, are currently being used but not to a great extent in Texas, notes Horne, Furthermore, chemical controls for the disease are not profitable at this time. About all homeowners can do is to give the trees good cultural care and to avoid mechanical injury.

The mulberry tree is afflicted with a fungal leafspot disease during the autumn months. This shade tree loses its leaves as a result of a windborne fungus that produces the disease, explains Horne.

Fungal leafspot can be contained by applying two fungicide applications during the year. Since the disease is predominant in the fall, the first application of Benomyl or a liquid broad spectrum fungicide should be applied in early fall and the final application made three weeks later.

The disease does not kill mulberry trees but defoliates them prematurely, bringing on a wintery appearance, notes Horne.

Phone Cables Going Under

Earthworms and telephone cables have two things in common: Both are safer underground, but both get dug up once in awhile.

A real difference, though, is in the intent of the person doing the digging.

"Few people, if any, would knowingly dig up a telephone cable," said Dennis Richter, manager for Southwestern Bell. 'But cable breaks do happen here--primarily because of construction going on."

Richter cited Cameron's growth rate as the reason for the fast-paced building activity. He said 90 percent of telephone cable installed to meet growth is placed underground, "both for protection from the elements and for a more attractive environment.

"By going underground, the cable isn't as susceptible to bad weather," the manager said. "Moisture in the wires can disrupt service, and burying the cable usually solves the problem."

But when underground cable is cut, the result is always the same--phones stop working. At best, that means real inconvenience for telephone users. At worst, it means a customer facing an emermgency might not get help in time.

Richter explained if a cable that carries Long Distance calls were to be severed, entire communities could be isolated from the rest of the world.

Richter said also that a severed telephone cable can mean extra expense for those responsible. For example, when a contractor fails to notify the telephone company of excavation plans and cuts a cable clearly indicated by a Southwestern Bell marker, the firm often is held financially responsible for the damage.

"A call to the telephone company's toll-free Enterprise 9800 number--before digging--can prevent service interruptions," Richter said.

Southwestern Bell's Alice Redgrave of San Antonio stays as dry in a downpour as buried telephone cable, which she says her company is installing more of nowadays for protection from the elements, as well as for improvement of the environment.

Halloween Is A Children's Playday

Halloween is a children's playday that should be fun and practical. Instead of buying Halloween paraphernalia, consider letting children make their own, suggests Dorthy Taylor, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She suggested some do-it-yourself projects.

Halloween Cat -- cut a large cat's head, body and tail from black construction paper. Glue egg carton cups with glass marble centers on the cat's head for wild eyes. Attach the head, body and tail with brass brads. Change the cat's position to make him look as if he is falling, running, frightened or just scary.

Jack - o - lantern mobile -- cut an irregular ring out of heavy orange paper. Cut three triangles and one moon -shape out of heavy black paper for the eyes, nose and mouth. Don't forget the stem for the pumpkin. Hang the eyes, nose and mouth on strings to dangle inside the orange ring. Hang the mobile by a longer string attached to the stem of the pumpkin.

Paper plate mask -- draw a scary face on a heavy paper plate. Cut out and/or paint the facial features on the plate. Use rug yarn or straw for hair. Punch a hole above the ears on each side of the plate. Attach a shoe lace on each side and tie around the head.

Noise makers -- large, dried gourds painted with scary faces make excellent Halloween noise makers. The seeds inside the gourd make a nice "shushing" sound.

A small paper bag painted or decorated in a Halloween theme can be filled with dry beans, pop caps or jingle bells and attached to a stick. This ia great hand rattle.

If you smell natural gas, follow these 3 steps to safety.

The natural gas industry has one of the best safety records of any energy source in the United States.

The fact that you can smell natural gas is because we add a harmless chemical to it as an extra safety feature. Otherwise, it would be completely odorless. If you detect faint whiffs of what you think may be gas, investigate. It may be something that is as easily and safely corrected as a pilot light that has gone out, or a burner valve that's partially open.

If your equipment seems to be working properly and the odor intensifies and seems to be everywhere, please follow these precautions:

1. Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Don't use the telephone in your own home. Do not strike a match. Do not do anything that might cause a spark.
2. Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open to help ventilate.
3. Go to a nearby telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the source of the odor to determine whether it's safe for you to return to the house.

You may never have a natural gas leak, but we want you to be informed in case one does occur. Please make sure your family is aware of these precautionary steps. And we suggest that you keep this message for future reference.

Milam Farm Bureau Adopts Six Resolutions

The Milam County Farm Bureau adopted five resolutions for the state level and one on the national level at its annual meeting held last week.

On the state level:

1. Recommend that no ad valorem tax dollars be used for school operating budgets. 2. Support a school year of 170 days rather than the present requirement for a year of 180 days.

3. Recommend that the queen's contest be eliminated from the state Farm Bureau program. 4. Are opposed to the use of revenue acquired from the sale of bonds being used to finance any activity of the state government or any agency thereof except the veterans land program.

5. Support the increase in the state dues of $5 over the next three years, due to the increased cost of operating the Texas Farm Bureau because of inflation and the necessity to increase the effectiveness of the Texas Farm Bureau as a powerful spokesman and representative of farmers and ranchers.

On the national level:

1. Support a continuation of the present farm program philosophy of a no allotment, no subsidy - freedom of choice program. If minimum level food reserves have to become a reality, we recommend that a system be adopted where those reserves are held in private control and not in government control. We recommend that a loan program exist and the loan level be set at cost of production plus 10 percent for all commodities.

Recommendation to the board of the Texas Farm Bureau that the talent find judges be experienced in the entertainment field.

The Guaranteed Base of Choice test program which was intitiated in January, has been expanded to include four additional Northern bases.

It now includes K. I. Sawyer and Wurtsmith Air Force Bases, Mich., Grand Forks and Minot AFBs, N. D., Ellsworth AFB, S. D., Malmstrom AFB, Mont., and F. E. Warren AFB, Wyo.

Demos Urge Ticket Support

Max McClaren and Carroll Glaser county campaign leaders for Jimmy Carter, this week urged support of the entire Democratic ticket in Tuesday's general election and announced endorsement of the straight Democratic slate by a number of prominent Democratic elected officials in Milam County.

"We feel that the Democratic Party offers the voters of Milam County the best candidates for all offices up for election this year," McClaren said. "We have the opportunity once again to get this country moving with the election of Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale, and on the state and local levels we have the chance to continue the great work that Democratic elected officials have been doing for many years."

McClaren and Glaser added that the local and state officials can better serve the people of Milam County if they can count on support from a Democratic presidential administration "which truly cares about the grassroots citizens of this country."

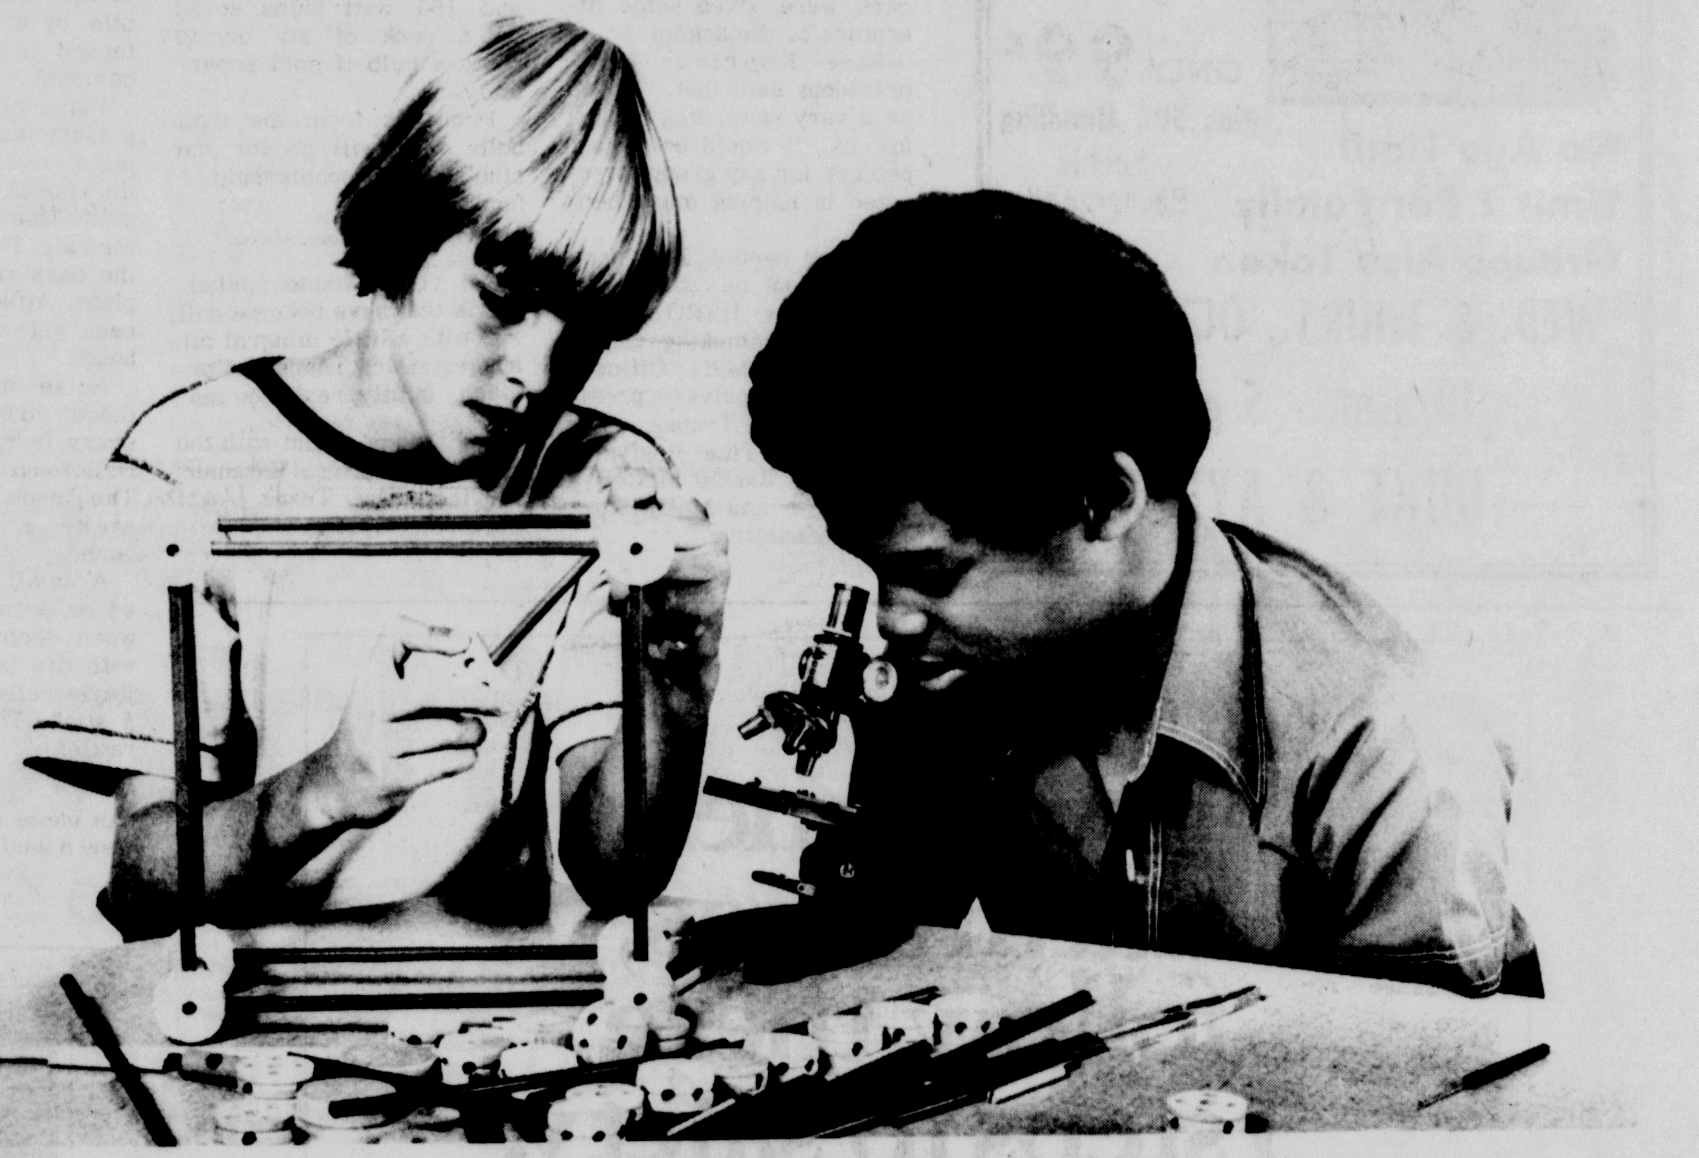
"Every indication is that Jimmy Carter will win this election and will carry Texas," McClaren continued. "When the election results are posted, we want to see Milam County in the winning column -- the Democratic column."

Joining in an endorsement of the Democratic ticket "from top to bottom" were State Senator Bill Patman, State Rep. Dan Kubiak, County Judge O. B. Harden, County Commissioners LaVert McKinney, Curtis Hines, Adolph Gresak, Gerald Vinton, and County School Supt. Max McClaren, County Clerk Wayne Wieser, County Tax Assessor Valter White, County Treasurer Charlie "Bubba" Maddox, and Democratic County Chairman Debs Hensley.

Top statewide elected officials who have already endorsed the Democratic ticket include Governor Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Governor Bill Hobby, Attorney General John Hill, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, Comptroller Bob Bullock, and Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Santa Fe Income Up

Net income of Santa Fe Industries, Inc., for the first nine months of 1976 was $85.3 million, or $3.27 a share, compared with $76.1 million, or $2.95 a share last year, John S. Reed, chairman, announced today.



Will they have the "right" to a job?

That's a question that should be answered carefully. Everyone should certainly have the "right" to compete for a job on an equal basis with anyone else. Everyone has the "right" to be considered for a job solely on the basis of ability to perform that job.

If a company is forced — by whatever means — to accept employees that are less than qualified the entire company suffers. Its employees. Stockholders. Customers. The firm is drastically handicapped in its efforts to grow and prosper. And growing, profitable companies employ many people in good jobs. Weak, unprofitable companies employ very few in mediocre jobs. And bankrupt companies hire none.

In a strong, free economy, there will be jobs available for those who are willing and able to work. But the worker must be free to seek the employment he wants — and to compete on an equal basis for that job. Those who create job markets — those who must compete in a free marketplace — must have that same freedom of choice in selecting employees. Otherwise, everyone's freedom of choice would be destroyed, and jobs would have to be assigned by arbitrary authority.

Ralph Wilson Plastics Company believes in fair treatment for all. And that everyone who seeks a particular job should be given an objective and impartial review. We also believe the best way to increased employment is a strong, thriving economy created by men and women working under the free enterprise system.

This is #3 in a series of messages on "the free enterprise system" to be brought to you by Ralph Wilson Plastics Company, manufacturers of Wilson Art brand laminated plastic and other products of quality and value for the building industry.

Carterite Favors Gun Controls

The man who controls the purse strings to Jimmy Carter's presidential campaign is a man the nation's hunters and sportsmen should keep an eye on.

R. Doug Lewis. director of the President Ford Committee of Texas, points out that the man is Morris Dees and according to Southern Outdoors Magazine, his name appears as the signator for a bank account in Montgomery, Ala., that is listed as the "National Gun Control center." Dees is also finance director of Carter's campaign, Lewis said.

"The National Gun Control Center," Lewis said, "has the spoken objective to 'break the National Rifle Association within five years.' "

Lewis said, "It has been rumored in some southern circles that Dees is a possible Carter choice for U.S. attorney general.

"Considering Dee's connection with the National Gun Control Center, this would not be good news for the nation's gun-owning sportsmen," Lewis said.

"According to the Congressional Quarterly, Jimmy Carter has said he favors registration of handguns, a ban on the sale of cheap handguns, and 'reasonable' licensing of all guns," Lewis said.

"One clue could come from Joe Levin Jr., a member of the Southern Poverty Law Center," Lewis said. "Dees is also associated with that organization and Levin admits that some of the Southern Poverty staff members are working with the National Gun Control Center as volunteers.

According to Southern Outdoors Magazine, Lewis noted, Levin has said, "I am for handgun abolition, totally and completely. I'd like to see rifles regulated. Sporting clubs could be formed where rifles would be available or shotguns. . . but that people would not be allowed to have them in their homes."

The magazine also noted that Southern Poverty is funded by Morris Dees.

"President Ford is aware that sportsmen are tired and angry about being lumped in with gun-toting hoods and poorly instructed persons who shoot each other," Lewis said.

"The president has vigorously opposed the federal registration of guns," Lewis said, "but at the same time he is calling for statutes that would provide a mandatory prison sentence for anyone who uses a firearm to commit a crime.

"In order not to deprive a sportsman and collector of their legitimate right to own and use firearms, President Ford has asked Congress to work closely with him and such interested parties as the National Rifle Association to find an equitable solution to the crime problem." Lewis said.

Rep. Poage Endorses Bentsen

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Texas Cong. W. R. Poage, ranking Democrat on the House Agriculture Committee, Tuesday endorsed the re-election of Lloyd Bentsen to the U. S. Senate.

"You don't have to look very far to find out how much Lloyd Bentsen has done for the important agriculture industry in the state of Texas," Poage said.

"Ask anyone connected with agriculture how Lloyd Bentsen helped persuade the Senate to increase the exemption on the out-of-date estate tax, or how, in 1973 and again in 1975 he fought for legislation to provide certainty for the family farm over Administration opposition."

"Lloyd Bentsen has a strong record of support for agriculture in the Senate."

"I think the choice for farmers and ranchers in Texas this year is crystal clear. And I am happy to endorse Lloyd Bentsen for re-election to the United States Senate," Rep. Poage said.

Bentsen Hails Reforms In Estate Tax Laws

CORSICANA

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Tuesday said the increased estate tax exemption approved by Congress this year is one of the most significant tax reforms since the 1940s.

The new tax law includes provisions that will, in effect, gradually increase the estate tax exemption to more than $175,000 over the next five years, Bentsen explained to reporters in Corsicana Tuesday.

"This is a welcome change and one I had fought for. The old $60,000 exemption, established back in World War II, was forcing the widows and children of farmers, ranchers, and small businessmen in Texas to sell off their properties to pay the tax," the Senator said.

Bentsen is a member of the Sentate Finance Committee, which writes tax legislation. He had introduced legislation increasing the exemption to $200,000, an exemption approved by the committee and later by the full Senate.

The $175,000 exemption was a compromise between the Senate and the House of Representatives, which had initially approved no legislation changing the estate tax exemption. The compromise that was signed into law increases the exemtpion to $120,000 next year and boost s it more each year after that until $175,000 is reached in 1981.

"I would have preferred the full $200,000 exemption that we approved in the Senate, but the changes that were made are substantial. They represent one of the most significant tax reforms since the 1940s," Bentsen said.

"Everything has gone up in the 34 years since the exemption was set, except for the exemption itself. Experts estimate that a farmer earning some $10,000 a year will leave an estate valued at $320,000. The $60,000 inheritance exemption for him meant that his widow and his sons and daughters had to sell off their land," Senator Bentsen said.

The new tax law also includes a proposal by Bentsen that bars artificially high land valuations that drive up the estate tax. It prohibits an existing practice by the Internal Revenue Service of assessing some farm land at its commerical value rather than its agricultural value for estate tax purposes.

President Endorses Burgess

Jack Burgess, candidate for U. S. Congress, announced in a speech to the Northwest Rotary Club of Waco, that he had received a personal letter of endorsement from President Ford.

Breaking from his prepared speech, Burgess made the announcement and read the letter to the group. In the letter to Burgess, President Ford said that the election of Burgess is vital to building a strong and balanced legislative program.

He went on to say, "the American people and the citizens of the 11th District of Texas need Jack Burgess in the U. S. Congress. I also need Jack Burgess and am pleased and honored to endorse your candidacy."

According to the President, Burgess will add a strong and capable voice for those policies which will maintain the strength of America at home and abroad.

Burgess, who is 39, is running against W. R. (Bob) Poage, who is 76, and was first elected to Congress 40 years ago. Burgess stated that he was honored to receive the President's endorsement and pledged not to disappoint all the people who have supported him.

Briscoe Campaigns For Carter

Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe, who has been campaigning all over the state for the Democratic ticket, today said the election of Jimmy Carter will bring an end to fiscal irresponsibility in Washington.

Briscoe said "during Carter's administration as Governor of Georgia, he left the state with a balanced budget, and, in fact, added $116 million to the state treasury."

Briscoe said the underlying theme of Carter's campaign is to balance the budget within four years.

He noted that Carter is a farmer, small businessman, an outdoorsman, and graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy.

Yoe JV Downs Hornets, 15-0

The Yoe High junior varsity defeated Caldwell last Thursday at Yoe Field, 15-0. The Yoe freshmen lost Caldwell, 44-8.

The Yoe JV took an early lead after marching 60 yards for a first quarter TD. The touchdown was set up after quarterback Edward Steamer connected with Edward Johnson for 40 yards.

Lawarence Lowe got the call from 5 yards out and powered his way for the score. The tail back then got the call on the PAT and plunged in for the 2 giving the Yoe JV a quick 8-0 lead.

The lead held through the first half and the Yoemen went to the dressing room owning an 8 point lead.

In the third quarter the Hornet offense dominated the stanza and the Yoe defense held several times within their end of the field.

In the fourth quarter fullback David Rinn culminated a perfect ground attack by the Yoemen offense.

Rinn high-stepped the final three yards for the score. Rinn booted the extra-point giving the winning margin, 150.

According to JV coach Roy Knight the defensive standouts included; linebacker David Cummings, defensive end Edward Johnson, and tackle Mike Marek.

In the freshmen game the Yoemen held a 8-6 half-time lead before the Hornet offense ran rampant.

In the first half of play the Hornets opened the scoring on their first offensive series. The PAT failed.

In the second quarter the Yoemen started a 40 yard drive that consumed most of the quarter. Dennis Rosemond plunged across the magic line.

Rosemond toted the mail on the extra point attempt and found clear sailing for the 2 point advantage. 8-6.

The lead held through the half but in the third quarter but the Hornet offense began to move and in the final half they scored 28 points.

The Yoe freshmen and junior varsity teams will play Hearne at Yoe Field Thursday night. The Yoe JV now stands 5-2 for the year while the freshmen are 1-5.

Yoemen Face Eagles In District 23-AA Battle

Teams with identical district records will square-off in Hearne Friday night as the 2-2 Hearne Eagles and 2-2 Cameron Yoemen will battle to salvage a winning season.

In district play the Eagles have defeated Rosebud-Lott and Pflugerville. Rockdale and Elgin has handed the Eagles their loses in district play.

The Eagle offense has scored a total of 68 points in district play which averages 17 a game in four games. The Eagles will depend on the experience of 6 offensive veterans from their 2-8 season of 1975.

The Eagle offense according to Yoe head coach Ed Cauley will use a number of sets and said the Eagles will have a balanced attack of running and passing.

The Hearne offensive line will average 185 pounds and will rely on the experience of senior tackles Bruce Clayton and Lewis Humber.

Larry Murphy senior running back will be the offensive threat for the Eagles. Murphy will do the bulk of the running for the Eagles and is the prime receiver of quarterback Lester Davis.

Davis will use the run, sweep and counter plays before going to the aerial attack. Cauley said, "Davis is a real good quarterback in that he throws the ball well. But, he doesn't like to run the ball."

The Hearne defense has allowed opponents to score 87 points this season, which averages 22 points a game.

On the defensive front line the Eagles average 195 pounds with their defensive secondary tipping the scales on the lighter side at 152 pounds per man.

Cauley said, "In the games that we have seen Hearne play their defense likes to stunt a lot. They will line up in an 8 man front and will shoot the gaps."

The Eagles will also line up in a 5-2 rover defensive set.

The Yoemen will be looking to hold on to their winning season and according to Cauley the game should be a real exciting one and "the Yoemen will be ready."

Tickets for the game will be on sale at the Yoe High Principals office until Friday according to secretary Minta Miller. Game time is scheduled for 8 p.m. at Eagle Stadium in Hearne.

FORREST GUESS

DISTRICT. . .

The battle for the District 23-AA crown will be on the line this Friday night in Rockdale. The Rockdale Tigers will face the only other undefeated team in District 23-AA, the Caldwell Hornets.

Caldwell has been defeated twice this season; Somerville and Waco LaVega.

The impressive record of the Tigers will overshadow any hopes of the Hornets. At the end of the game I foresee the Tigers as the dominating force in 2A football.

The remainder of the district games will be just a matter of record and a passing of time for the Tigers as they look to a REAL chance of being state champions.

As Cameron had last year the talent, size and experience it has shifted the 15 miles and across the Little River Bridge --- but it's still in Milam County.

Quite a treat for two Milam County teams in-a-row to be selected as the top team in 2A football. Cameron 1975 and Rockdale 1976.

And of course all Milam Countians will stick behind their teams to see a state winner. . . .

EYE SPY. . .

It sounded like a plot from the James Bond 007 series --or a Watergate breakin plot (on a small scale). To Darrel Royal and team it was more than just a small scale version, when they posed allegations that the University of Oklahoma spied on them.

The "spy" is to be investigated according to Vince Dooley, head of the American Football Coaches Association.

Dooley, head coach at the University of Georgia, said in an interview Friday that the investigation is routine anytime that there is an allegation made that one football team spied on another.

According to Dooley the discipline against Oklahoma, if in fact the allegations are true, could range from a letter of reprimand to suspension.

The investigation now involves OU and California. California stopped in Dallas and worked out after playing Georgia. The California team's school had not started and the expense of flying from Georgia to California then the next weekend back to Oklahoma was the reason for California staying in Dallas and working out at Texas Stadium.

Allegations are stemming from a report that Lonnie Williams had spied on UT and USC.

The connection of Williams is with assistant coach Larry Lacewell of OU. The head coach of OU, Barry Switzer said that he has never asked anyone to "spy" for him.

I doubt these investigations will be shown on national TV--- but for the glory of sports and for football they should be investigated thoroughly and the truth should be known. . .

BAND POWER. . .

By the next Spotlight, the Yoe High Band will have competed in the University Interscholastic League marching competition.

Jerry Bartley and his marching 130 will feature his famous show - band performance that fans of Cameron have grown so accustomed in his third year in Cameron.

Bartley has given flair to Friday nights around the state as the Yoemen entered post season play.

Routines that include circles, stars, quick - steps, fanfares and just a whole lot more have excited crowds to standing ovations from Hampshire - Fannitt and even to Corpus Christi during Buccaneer Days parade.

The band will be competing next Tuesday, Nov. 2 at Waco. The band will march at 5:30 and will be looking for a 1st division ranking which will be the first step in a Sweepstakes Band.

We know we have a Number One band ---

CAULEY SAID. . .

"It was a very disappointing loss to me and to the team. I know there is nothing worse than losing and the young men know that too.

"We just didn't play well Friday night. We didn't block well, run well and didn't play our defense well. I wish I knew what we could do differently to change things around.

"Donald Komar did a real effective job punting for us and he put Caldwell in the hole several times.

"We have no excuses. We just lost. We still have a chance for a winning season. The kids want to win and they want to have a winning season.

"We have been knocked down 4 times and I just hope we can get up and fight back. There is nothing like winning just as there is nothing like losing."

HEARNE. . .

"Hearne has a real good team and they have an excellent runner in Larry Murphy. He is a 185 pound senior and carries the ball a majority of the time.

"Lester Davis will be quarterbacking for the Eagles and he likes to throw the ball. He will throw to Murphy.

"The Eagles will run a multi-set offense. We are looking forward to playing the Eagles and looking for another win."

FASCINATION FOR THE FUTURE

JUNIOR FIRE MARSHAL

There is an important element in the process of growing up that not all parents understand. It expresses itself in games of role-playing—the child pretends to be a grown-up in some adventurous situation.

As parents, we should realize that there is more to a child's role-playing than imagination. Actually he is caught up in a fascination for the future. He is beholding tomorrow as a horizon of limitless opportunities. Being a brave fireman is just one possibility he'll explore.

To wise parents this fascination for the future signals the child's pressing need for religious training. Whatever his emerging role in our complex society, his God-given potentials in moral and spiritual integrity must be developed.

One of the churches in our community should be yours. Its program of worship and Christian education offers a FOUNDATION FOR THE FUTURE. Fascination alone is tragically inadequate.
